MARKS – 80

Que.1.A. Seen Extract:-Read the following extract and complete the following activities. 12 M

Extract :- The eight and half hour long day inside the hide was as fruitful as the Jambha tree standing tall on the edge of Umbarzara. Before wrapping up my day at this natural waterhole. I took entries of the avifauna in my field notes. Since I was alone. I rushed to Pitezari village where I was stationed. I camouflaged the hide ,took my essential, came out of the hide and stretched out to my hearts content. I lifted my camera bag and took the familiar trail to Pitezari. Negotiating the webbed leaves of Teakwood and Moha trees,trying to make minimal sound. I was treading cautiously among the woods. Walking alone in a jungle needs more alertness than walking with a companion. I was alone here like a fox. Following the trail silently watching with wide-open eyes,my ears were grasping a variety of sounds just when a familiar sound stunned me

Khyak!Khyak! KhyakoSS Khykak!

It was a Langur alarm call. The leader of the gang of Langurs was sitting on the tall tree making alarm calls out of fear for life.Rest of the Langur brigade continued raising alarm calls. The network of alarm calls was expanding its range as the petrified Langurs speeded to the trees near and far and secured their places on treetops. All this upheaval was created by only one animal's presence- a Leopard. Many animals make alarm calls when they see a predator- Tiger or Leopard nearby. The Langur is the most reliable when it comes to finding clues about the presence of the apex predators in the jungle. The mighty elusive Leopard of Umbarzara was out of the lair. He was on the prowl. The stealthily moving figure un spotted gold-black cloak was spied by these Langurs . Even the small ones from the legion of langurs were giving alarm calls.

Poem :- When I had money, money, O !

I knew no joy till I went poor;

For many a false men as a friend

Came knocking all day at my door.

Then felt I like a child that holds

A trumpet that he must not blow

Because a man is dead; I dared

Not speak to let this false world know.

Much have I thought of life, and seen

How poor men's hearts are ever light;

And how their wives do hum like bees

About their work from morn till night.

So, when I hear these poor ones laugh,

And rich ones coldly frown

Poor men, think I, need not go up

So much as rich men should come down.

When I had money, money, O !

My many friends proved untrue

But now I have no money, O ! My friends are real, though very few.

Blue as the wings of halcyon wild,

We weave the robes of new- born child .

Weavers weaving at fall of night,

Why do you weave a garment so bright?.....

Like the plumes of peacock, purple and green,

We weave the marriage-veils of queen.

Weavers, weaving solemn and still,

What do you weave in the moonlight chill.....

White as a feather and white as a cloud,

We weave a dead man's funeral shroud.
